

Why actuaries should consider also macro-prudential framework

25 October 2021 | 11.00 – 13.00 CET

PURPOSE

We have a good and efficient micro-prudential framework in Europe what has secured well the end consumers depending on insurance services and also provided very stable results for various stakeholders. Recently, there has been a growing discussion of the need for a macro-prudential framework with a set of different tools, the current pandemic and its implications as the latest driver for this.

This webinar aims on building an understanding for the participants on what a Marco-prudential framework is all about in a general level but also diving more deeply to the specific suggestions, tools and the practical questions there. We recommend this webinar for all our members who need to understand the basics of this new framework and the important topics in it!
